BETHEL PLAYERS IN FIRST PRESENTATION NEXT THURSDAY EVE

Next Thursday evening, March 18, Bethel Players, the dramatic club with a mission for service presents its first play, "Adam's Evening" at 8:15 in the William Bingham Gymnasium under the direction of Mrs Helen Dyer.

The cast:

Adam Adams Roland Glines
 Anna Adams, his wife Emily Saunders
 Mrs Bean, Anna's mother Celia Gorman
 Casper, a colored servant Richard Bryant
 Gertie, colored maid Kate Adams
 Dr. Fragoni, family doctor Dale Thurston
 Rosita, doctor's wife Barbara Wilson
 Elmer Green, suicidal maniac Joe Roderick

Mr Cokes John Howe
 Mr Cokes Ada Conner Addison Saunders will be assisted in his duties as stage manager by Mrs Richard Young. Richmond Roderick will superintend the make-up and the Misses Marion Stallwood and Celia Bryant care for any prompting that may be necessary. Miss Stallwood will also furnish the sound effects.

Other club members in important posts include Mrs Richard Young and Mrs Murray Thurston in charge of advertising, Miss Celia Bryant directing the ticket sales while Mrs Richard Waldron as chief usher will be assisted by Mrs Roland Glines, Mrs John Howe, Mrs Murray Thurston, Miss Sally Stowell and Mrs Walter Jodrey.

From the moment a patron is graciously greeted by one of the staff of attractive ushers until the last curtain call an evening of hilarity, suspense and excitement is assured.

This three-act farce is based on the complicated domestic affairs of Mr Adam Adafin, who after a very large "night out" tells his wife a lurid tale of being involved in an automobile accident in which a friend was killed. As is usual when radical departure from the truth is resorted to in dealing with a "better half," he finds himself in very deep hot water. Mrs Adams eventually learns the truth from Gertie, the colored maid, then the deluge.

Of course things work out to the customary happy ending but not until Mr Adams is in more pleasantries than Mr Helms ever dreamed of.

The ticket sale has progressed in a highly satisfactory manner with Dale Thurston and Carolyn and Dick Bryant high liners in production.

Proceeds from this and succeeding presentations will be devoted to recreational facilities for young and old with special emphasis on adequate provisions for baseball.

The regular monthly meeting of the organization will be held at the William Bingham Gymnasium on Monday evening.

BETHEL NOT TO ACCEPT GILEAD SCHOOL STUDENTS

At a meeting of the Bethel Superintendent School Committee held on Tuesday, March 9, it was voted not to accept the students from the Gilead School for the school year 1948-49. At its annual town meeting Gilead had voted to transport their students to Bethel provided Bethel would accept them. The Bethel Committee also discussed the forming of a School Planning Committee to assist the School Committee in formulating some definite plans for the future of the Bethel schools. Some definite action will be taken on this at the April meeting.

GUILD HEARS TALK ON BIRDS

Mr Barker, vice-president of the Audubon Club and a member of Stephens High School faculty of Rumford, gave a very interesting talk on Birds. He took as his subject topic, "Did You Know?" This was followed by a question period.

Mrs J. L. Doore of Paris Hill, who was the scheduled speaker, was unable to be here because of illness. Several members of the W. S. C. S., Eleanor Gordon Guild, and the Ladies Club were present at the program as guests of the Guild.

P. T. A. CARD PARTY TO RAISE MONEY FOR LUNCH ROOM

The March Parent Teacher Association meeting will be followed by a public card party for the purpose of raising funds for the hot lunch room. This will be held Tuesday evening, March 16, the regular meeting night, in the Masonic club rooms, and will start at 7:30 with a short business meeting.

Those in charge of the card party are: contract co-chairmen, Ruth Lord, Rita Davis, Ruth Chapman; co-chairmen, Elsie Enman, Marguerite Summer; 63 chairman, Ethel Ward; refreshments, Marvel Hanscom, Patricia Bennett, Thelma Van, Mary Moore; prizes to be solicited from business men, Betty Anderson, Folly Myers; advertising, Helen Roderick; tables, Ada Conner, Gertrude Fossett; cards, Maia Young; talles and score pads, Doris Lord, Harriet Noyes.

The Association has very great responsibility now in that it must match the funds that the town appropriated. We know this will be no small task, each and every one of us must cooperate and do our share in the work.

Several ideas have been given on ways to raise money, namely a series of card parties, food sale, raffle, a benefit dance. It is hoped that if you have any good ideas that you will give them to any member of the committee or one of the officers.

The South Parks P. T. A. has invited the Bethel association to attend their March meeting at the South Park High School building March 15 at 8 p.m. when they will entertain all the Parent Teacher Associations in this area. State Commissioner of Education Harold P. Ladd will be the guest speaker.

Cure for Shortage

Oil is said to calm troubled waters. Oil is indeed the key to a good many problems, international and national. Right now there is not enough oil for all who want to consume it in this country, and some domestic waters are not calmed. Some of you have come back up against this shortage of petroleum products. I hope you are not among those who have had the poor judgment to call for government rationing and control.

I have said in an earlier column that it was government bungling, along with the wastage of war, that laid the ground work for our current trouble in the petroleum industry. The result—our shortage of fuel oil and gasoline—is here. Now there are those folks who get frightened, not having a long view of things, every time a slight economic disturbance rears its head. These folks usually holler for the government to do something.

Who's To Blame?

Or they blame an industry. In this instance the oil industry is no more to blame than you are. In fact, you are probably more to blame, especially if you are one of nearly a million householders who have installed oil heating since 1941. Or if you have anything to do with the almost 2½ million increase in motor vehicle registration since 1941. There are 25% more trucks on the road than before the war. They had to go where it is grown on farms almost 100% more mechanized than in 1941.

All these things take oil. Railroads used 42% more diesel fuel in 1947 than in the year before. Our greatly stepped up industrial growth has been powered by oil and lubricated by petroleum products. Oil and gas have emerged as the main source of industrial energy. In 1920 we used 70% of the total energy produced in this country; oil and gas 19% in 1947. In 1948 it was oil 47% and gas 47%. The others? My law, please don't ask.

Poll Speed Ahead

The oil industry is therefore going after a price. Present output of the oil is far more than the market can bear. And for years ago the oil companies have been engaged in a race of adjustment. There is the kind of jockeying for position and maneuvering and price control can never cease.

There is one thing for the oil companies to do. There are probably 100,000 oil dealers in this country who are willing to put up a moderate reduction as did in 1939. They say that oil sales costs are about two times those of ten years ago and subject with cost of barrel decreased five or six times what they used to be. Then, of course, there is the problem of whether they can get the steel or materials at all.

What You Can Do

If you are an oil consumer, you can talk out the country through the oil companies. You can directly pressure your local dealers into doing the same. The voluntary way will prevent government intervention in oil control, which would only make matters worse. Reducing oil consumption and real prices are the best bottom line. The oil companies are capable of doing their part. The public, too, must do its share. The public must be educated to the facts of oil control and the need for it.

HARSH CRITICISM OFTEN A STUMBLING BLOCK

Do you realize that if we had the gift of true understanding, we would never criticize anyone? Can you not recall someone of whom you once were critical, and, later, when you understood all conditions, your point of view toward him changed completely? Most of us have had such an experience. The most learned men are the most tolerant; the best educated people are the kindest in their judgment.

The trouble with most people is that they judge—and often condemn—on very little knowledge of the facts. The average person judges others by his own limitations. Perhaps teachers are the most frequently, since their job is to instruct and criticize. I mean teachers with book learning and little knowledge of human nature.

D. Carnegie

I recall a Latin teacher of my youth who made me thoroughly dislike both her and the study of Latin. How? By reading my errors in Latin grammar before the entire class, emphasizing my mistakes, my stupidity. This teacher was employed by the state of Missouri; my taxes helped to pay her salary; her job was to help me; yet all she ever did was to hurt me. She killed in me the desire to learn a foreign language, and I am ashamed to confess that I lived many years in foreign countries with resentment toward learning the language of the country in which I resided.

"Ridicule of children is well-nigh criminal," said Dr. Alfred Adler. "Ridicule retains its effect upon the soul of a child, and is transferred into the habits or actions of his adulthood."

The young daughter of a friend of mine has just completed her first novel. Whether or not it is a good novel, I am not prepared to say; I have not read it. The reason I am mentioning it to you is that this girl, at the age of 13, was chided by her French teacher in a large private school in New York City (the school is now defunct, which does not surprise me). The French teacher called the girl stupid before the entire class, because her work was not as well prepared as that of her classmates. That girl says that for years she looked upon herself as stupid, and when later she tackled any foreign language, she was ready at the first difficulty to tell herself it was no use; she was stupid about languages.

But note this: three girls in that class, who were honor students in high school and graduated from college are now teaching dancing, while the girl branded as stupid has just completed her first book, and is aiming at more. I hope the French teacher knows these facts. Let me make myself clear: I don't decry teaching the beautiful and delightful art of dancing, but am comparing the work of those girls with what that French teacher thought they were aiming at—mental achievement.

This Week in WASHINGTON

RAMAGE of the weekend rent control law is expected to provide for a gradual though not a spectacular jump in rents. This is a continuation of the trend which has been apparent under the law which expired February 28. These increases have resulted from the "adjustments" permitted under the old law and which are continued under the new rent control act.

Although most economists here both in and out of government favor a gradual increase, the ADA may finally endorse Mr. Truman, southern voters may not back up their professional political leadership, and with Russian influence breathing hotter and hotter over western Europe with the fall of Czechoslovakia, Mr. Wallace's third party may fade away from the picture as November rolls around. These conditions are all admitted in the new rent control act.

HEARINGS ARE NOW GOING ON before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce on a bill introduced by Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana, to establish a department of transportation. The bill would transfer the interstate commerce commission and other regulatory agencies to the proposed new department. Some farm leaders, including the national council of farm cooperatives, are on record as opposed to the principles of the bill.

The national council at its annual meeting in January adopted a policy declaring for the present set up of the transportation regulation and review by the courts.

AT A MEETING of the agricultural insecticide and fungicide association held here in conjunction with the department of agriculture, Charles F. Branham, assistant secretary of agriculture, declared that approximately a half billion bushels of grain are annually destroyed by insects, fungi and rodents. Estimates included the destruction of growing crops from fungus, fungicide of stored grain against insects and a pallion-ette device to destroy rats. This huge amount of grain would be sufficient to fill the government's export commitments to western Europe and the whole world. The association promised close cooperation with the department and with the United States food and agriculture organization.

ON THE POLITICAL FRONT came the American Democratic Action at their Philadelphia convention to endorse the record nation of President Truman, the majority of Rep. Southern governors to back the party, and the formation of Henry Wallace's third party movement in the Democratic ranks, have definitely brought President Truman's prospects to a new low at this writing. He won a victory, however,

Already Underground

THIS argument—that suppression of the Communist party would drive it underground—is not convincing. Communists in this country have long since gone underground. A few "front men" like Browder and Foster keep themselves in the lime-light: Good camouflage, behind which the great mass of these subversives can work secretly. Even the House un-American activities committee has been unable to force confessions of party membership out of well-known carriers of the Red plague. We couldn't drive the party further underground unless we buried it in the bowels of perdition, where it belongs.

There is nothing written in our Constitution which is intended to make us an irresistible prey to enemies of our country and of our persons. Communists are undeniably both—they would destroy the people's government and turn the nation over to a foreign ruler. They would take the lives of all who stood in their way as they have always done right through the history of these underworld uprisings, and there is no imaginable reason why they would not do it here. Their ranks are recruited from a pretty low order.

"It is un-American to forbid freedom of speech!" Why then cannot one harangue from soap boxes against other races and religions which make up this nation?

If we prevent that—and we right or do—why is it un-American to forbid these creatures from publicly advocating the stifling of our freedom and the destruction of masses of our citizens? That is what it amounts to!

Some of us boast no communist movement could be successful here where so many of our nationals own property. On November 6 and 7, 1937 an infinitesimal but determined group of men seized the Russian government, packed the convention, and ratified their own acts.

It is true that such revolutions occur when a nation is laboring under some great stress. But they could not occur—even then—if there were no revolutionaries—and there would be none if we made their party illegal, and upheld the rigidly. The P. R. C. can be just as efficient as the Russian secret police, if necessary, and without the latter's brutality.

AND HER'S SOMETHING NEW or that exciting new board here in West Africa. Commercial vegetable growers are protesting against the agricultural department's drive to get 30 million freedom gardens planted this year. Two million more than last. These commercial growers are who depend upon their work for a living, for lower prices if they have competition from 20 million amateur freedom gardeners and they claim that the amateurs also waste seed and fertilizer.

VETERANS' QUESTION BOX

Ed. Note: This newspaper has arranged with the Washington Bureau of National Weekly Newspaper Service, 1616 Eye St. N.W., Washington 6, D.C., to answer questions pertaining to servicemen and veterans. These questions will be answered in this column if addressed as above. No replies can be made by mail, but this paper will print answers to all questions received.

Q. I am a World War I veteran's wife. My husband helped win two wars, one with weapons, one at hard labor in coal mines. He went across in World War I, was over there 16 months and went through many hardships and some terrible times. In World War II he labored very hard in coal mines and is still working. He is 58 years old, his health is so that he isn't able to work at hard labor, but he has to for a living. Since they have done so much for World War II veterans, I can't understand why World War I veterans are not allowed a pension so they won't have such a hard time in their last few years of life. They seem to be the forgotten veterans—E. W. Pinsonfork, Ky.

A. World War I veterans received almost all advantages given to veterans of World War II except unemployment compensation and educational advantages. World War I veterans were given disability ratings, pensions, vocational rehabilitation and even a bonus, which has not yet been given to veterans of World War II. No World War II veteran receives a pension unless he was wounded in action or is suffering from other service-connected disability. Your husband received a bonus, he receives the highest pay he ever did receive, he has retirement benefits and his social security will help him when he retires from work.

Q. I served with the Waves from September, 1943, until August, 1946, when I was discharged because I am going to have a baby. My husband is a veteran but has been out of the service for a couple of years. Can I get hospitalization through the veterans' administration?

A. The veterans' administration says that hospital care is authorized in pregnancy cases of women veterans only if it is complicated by pathological conditions. Under these circumstances hospitalization may be authorized in a VA or contract hospital. Ordinarily, women honorably discharged or separated from the army, navy, marine corps or coast guard on account of pregnancy are eligible for maternity care during that pregnancy and confinement and for out-patients and post-natal care in certain army and navy hospitals which have been designated for that purpose. Suggest that you contact your local Red Cross chapter or, if there is none there, the local service organizations, and they will assist you in making arrangements for hospitalization.

Q. Can you advise whether or not members of the coast guard reserve are entitled to any monetary benefits? T. R. G., Nashville, Tenn.

A. Veterans' Administration says that members of the coast guard reserve (temporary) are not entitled to monetary benefits from the VA. Suggest that you write to Coast Guard headquarters, Treasury building, Washington, D.C. 20402 they will advise you of status of this organization.

Six-Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †

The World Mission of the Church.

Lesson for March 14: Romans 10:8-15; Ephesians 3:8-12.

Memory Selection: Isaiah 52:7.

The world mission of the church is clearly indicated in the New Testament. The fact command of the ascending Lord gives us the marching orders of the Christian church. Under those orders the earthly disciplines marched. And they initiated a movement that has gone throughout the world. The missionary spirit must continue if the church continues to make progress.

Writing to the Romans, Paul makes it clear that there must be no distinction among men in preaching the gospel and that they who preach need fear no limitation whatsoever. "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." But they must first hear the gospel. And if they hear preachers must be sent unto them.

Writing to the Ephesians, the apostle rejoices in his own call to preach the "unsearchable riches of Christ." They are unsearchable in the sense that they cannot be exhausted. All the needs of human life and the glory to come are comprised in those riches. And they are to be proclaimed that men may know the wisdom of God and His eternal purpose for them through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

The mission of the church demands boldness, as becomes those who have such a message and the infinite resources of high heaven with them. It is not ours to doubt and question concerning the responsibility of missionary work. It is ours to do all we can to promote the missionary interests of the Christian church.

JACKSON-SILVER POST AND UNIT PLAN DEDICATION AND BIRTHDAY PARTY

Regular meetings of the Jackson-Silver Post and Unit were held Thursday evening, March 4. President Rena Howe presided and Secretary Bertha Mason read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved.

Plans were made for the Legion's Birthday Supper and the dedication of the new hall March 18, when the guest speaker will be Major General Frank E Lowe (retired) of Harrison, who was unable to be with us Feb. 19 because of the icy traveling. The $30 supper served in honor of the American Legion's twenty-ninth birthday will be in charge of President Rena Howe. The Jackson-Silver Post was organized in the fall of 1919.

A program and music by the Legion Alres will follow the supper.

Mrs. Olive Lurvey, local teacher, and a Past District Vice-President, was a guest the 4th and spoke on the Federal Education Bill H.R. 2953 and/or S. 472. She said the American Legion was one of the sponsors of this plan to equalize the school money. Mrs. Lurvey also explained the need of a small col to use for the school children when they are tired and ill. Marion Farrand kindly offered the use of her roll-a-way bed and a blanket until the Auxiliary can replace it with a permanent one. Marilyn Andrews was named col committee.

The Legionnaires voted $5.00 for Community Service and the Auxiliary decided to buy a new kitchen light. The ladies will also purchase two Americanism Essay Award Medals to be given to winners in the Bryant Pond High School. One will be silver the other bronze. The title of the essay must be "Our Great American Heritage—Liberty" and should be no more than 500 words in length. The pupils will have until April 15 to send them to the chairman, Mrs. Fannie Cummings.

The proceeds of the refreshments at the Saturday night dances for January and February are $62.27. The committee for March is Idaela Morgan, Ruth Morgan and Iola Marshall. Feb. 6 the spot waltz was won by Charles Mason Jr. and Charlotte Stevens, and George Luxton, West Bethel, received the basket of groceries.

March 16 the Oxford County Council meets with Oxford at the Welchville Grange Hall. Speakers will include Department Pan-American Chairman Helen LaCasse of Fryeburg and Boardman Fish of Portland, State Membership Chairman for the Legion.

Past Commander Herman Cummings, who is seriously ill, has been taken to Togus for treatment. Cards will be welcome.

WITH the recent announcement that "The Jolson Story" was voted the most popular picture of 1947 by a Gallup poll of the nation's moviegoers, Al Jolson is now the number one man in three mediums . . . The Hooper poll of radio listeners has shown that Al attracts a larger audience to his weekly NBC Music Hall than any other singer on the air. . . . In the field of recordings, his album is the first to have ever sold more than a million copies, and now Cash-Box magazine has selected him as the person who "has done most for the industry in 1947" . . . Not bad for a chap in his 60's who was a forgotten man a little more than a year ago.
